

OT

Our eyes spied the sparkling harbour and we took dramatic style notes from nature. Rare beauty is celebrated in bold design that's strikingly off the wall. Drawing inspiration from the oyster and oyster trawler, designer Nic Graham has created a visual feast. Soaked in natural hues and a lot of mood, wake up where the pleasure-seekers stay.

QUIRKY FACTS

QT Auckland's design was inspired by the oyster, designer Nic Graham's metaphor for a converted office building – a shell hiding the luxury that lies within.

An iconic presence at the doors, guests are greeted with theatrical flair by a Director of Chaos – armed with local knowledge and dressed in fashion label Maggie Marilyn and Aleph Beauty makeup.

Under the direction of renowned chef Sean Connolly, Esther's menu reflects his travels chasing the food of the sun in the Mediterranean, while Rooftop at QT features mezze and tapas plates.

The hotel is home to local and international artworks, including a 90-piece collection by Misterwolf, plus New Zealand artists Ilya Volykhine, Louise McRae and Max Patté.
